

2012*
n=20

2013*
n=21

A redesigned course yielded people interested in collecting data during the second year. After the full semester experience, 4 people out of the 21 in the 2013 course stated they would continue to collect data at the Extension Office, and one stated “maybe”. Six people had established monitoring sites at their home.

*For both 2012 and 2013 course materials, visit the workshop section of the website www.usanpn.org/resources/workshops.